Governor Letcher on the Situation

EX-Governor Letcher of Virginia like many other guilty traitors is anxious to accept the situation, let by-gones be by-gones and forgive the Government for defending itself against him and his brother rebs Not long ago he delivered an address at Lexington, Virginia, on the occasion of the re-inauguration of the statue of Washington at the Virginia Military Institute, in the course of which he said

The Southern people regard the question at issue as settled and forever settled They accept the result and are prepared to abide by it in good faith They pledge an honor that is untarnished and when honest men and brave men give such a pledge, who can doubt their sincerity and who can hesitate to believe that their pledge will be redeemed to the letter No government can endure which does not rest upon the affections of its people A wise just tolerant, upright administration of public affairs will win back the affections of the South and entwine them around the pillars that uphold the Union as the clasping ivy entwines the majestic oak Kindness begets kindness—confidence inspires confidence charity and tolerance generates love and affection Let all these ennobling virtues be cultivated and encouraged If the scenes of the last four years cannot be forgotten by either side, let them be, at least, forgiven and passed by in solemn, dignified silence Let each side cease to remind each other of the disagreeable incidents that occurred during the sad but eventful period Let us then be of good cheer Let no one be disheartened or discouraged We must all do our duty in a faithful independent and manly way, and then we may reasonably anticipate a bright and happy future for ourselves, our posterity and our country It should be the policy of all to inculcate a spirit of concord and to act each to the other as to advance the common interest of all We should do everything in our power to secure the prosperity of the nation, augment its wealth, develop its boundless mineral and other resources arouse up its dormant energies built up its channels of intercommunication encourage agricultural, mechanical and manufacturing industry This is due to ourselves as well as to those who are to come after us and who look to us for the adoption of a policy that will place them before the world in the most advantageous position Let us deal candidly fairly, honestly, justly and charitably one with another, and then, kneeling around the altar of a common country, let a united prayer ascend to heaven "God bless America!"

GENERAL GRANT'S FATHER.—A letter from General Grant's father, addressed to his former partner, E. A. Collins, of Virginia City, contains the following interesting pass

The Daily Oregonian.

FRIDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 20, 1866

What Next?

In the Atlantic Monthly for October is an article understood to be the production of the pen of Representative Boutwell, of the Seventh Massachusetts District, which gives a clearer analysis of Johnson's character and the motives which inspire him, and a more forcible statement of the tendencies of his policy, and the dangers to be apprehended from it, than we have elsewhere seen The article shows conclusively that Mr Johnson's policy, if not directly borrowed from A H Stephens, is in perfect accord with that put forth since the close of the war, by the rebel Vice President, and that it was contemplated by Johnson, in case he should succeed in electing a sufficient number of Congressmen in the Northern States to make a majority when united with the members from the South, to deny the legitimate authority of Congress as at present constituted, and to summon the new Congress to assemble immediately after the 4th of March,—which his supporters "would take possession of the hall, remove the Clerk and organize the assembly." To accomplish this object the election of seventy-one Congressmen from the twenty-six States now represented, would be a necessary preliminary condition. Joined with the fifty persons assuming to be members from the ten unrepresented States, the combination would have one hundred and twenty-one votes, or a majority of the House, and the usurpation would be a triumph.

Of the success of this plan there is now, happily, little danger. It is scarcely possible for Johnson to secure the seventy-one members from the twenty-six States. So far, he has obtained but twelve The indications are that the Union strength in the next Congress will nearly equal its strength in this. Johnson will lack at least twenty votes of having enough to organize his Congress. So that scheme fails utterly. What will be the next programme?

The President must submit unconditionally to the policy of Congress, or when it re-assembles in December he may refuse to recognize its existence, unless the members from the South are admitted. His pride and obstinacy may prevent him from doing the first, and the fear of impeachment is the only thing that will prevent him from doing the last. In the Atlantic Monthly's article there is a searching analysis of his character, in which the author asserts that "Johnson is the victim and the slave of three passions—fear, hatred and ambition" It has been repeatedly declared that he is in mortal fear of impeachment Such statements have been made by his friends as well as by his enemies. On several occasions during his late tour, he himself made a confession of his fear that Congress would impeach him. May he not therefore resolve to ignore henceforth the authority of Congress, and endeavor to secure himself in his place by the adoption of a course similar to that suggested by the "five questions" which the Philadelphia Ledger reported as having been sent by him to the Attorney General? Certain it is that many of his supporters expect him to take this step. Their advice and his own fears may work him up to the point of making the attempt. Of course impeachment would immediately follow. Whether civil war would be another result, is a thing more difficult to foretell.

General Scott and Father Payne.

The Portland correspondent of the San Francisco Bulletin furnishes the following interesting scrap of biography, as taken from the autobiography of General Scott. How men achieve an enviable a place in the recollections of American history as Hon. Aaron Payne, of Yamhill county, has obtained, in Scott's accounts of his life and times The correspondent introduces it as follows

The Second incident occurred in the Black Hawk war in 1832 Scott reached the American forces under Gen. Atkinson, just after the battle of the Badaxe, at the confluence of the river of that name with the Mississippi. In this battle the Indians were defeated and soon after capitulated. After relating these circumstances, the autobiography gives the following account of an interview between Scott and a wounded volunteer, then confined to the hospital at Prairie du Chien, but long since and now a resident of Oregon, and known here as Father Payne:

"Imagining the hospital at Fort Crawford, Prairie du Chien (Taylor's post), Scott was struck with the remarkably fine head of a tall volunteer, lying in his side and seeking relief in a book. To the question, 'What have you there, my friend?' the wounded man pointed to the title page of Young's Night Thoughts. Scott sat down on the edge of the bunk, already interested, and learned this story

"The reader's brother, Mr. Payne, was Black Hawk's first victim. Not in a spirit of revenge, but to protect the surviving frontier settlers, the wounded man had become a volunteer. Riding into the field of the Badaxe, he passed an armed Indian boy, not more than in his fourteenth year, whom he might easily have sabred, but that he thought him a harmless child. The incipient warrior, however, fired and lodged a ball against the spine of the noble volunteer, who, though still suffering greatly, declared that he preferred his condition to the remorse he should have felt if he had killed the boy, believing him to have been harmless"

Scott soothed the Christian hero and took leave with moistened eyes.

The hero of this story, as I have suggested, I believe to be Father Payne, who emigrated to Oregon in, I think, the year 1847. In the winter of 1850-1, I sat with him as a member of the Oregon Legislature from Yamhill, and heard him relate this adventure and the interview with Scott, substantially as told in the Autobiography. He still resides in Yamhill county, and although three score and twice ten, is hale and hearty. It will doubtless gratify the old man to learn that the hero of Lundy's Lane, and the conqueror of Mexico, had remembered the wounded volunteer of the Black Hawk war, and given him a page in his memoirs.

NORTH YAMHILL, Oct. 22, 1866.

EDITOR OREGONIAN: I desire to acknowledge with gratitude, the kindness of those editors who have made mention of an incident in my eventful life, in connection with the old valiant patriot General Scott. The incident above referred to is still green and fresh in my memory—kept so perhaps—by the ball fired by the Indian boy, which I still carry near the spinal column in my body

In giving publicity to this, you will please assure the public that I am the identical person referred to, and that I feel proud to be associated in history with the name of the "old hero of many wars," and who, in his unwavering fidelity to his country has embalmed his name in the heart of every American patriot.

WAR DEMANDED.—The San Francisco Examiner is the principal Democratic journal of California. Its editor, like him of the Copperhead paper in this city, is extremely anxious for another war. But they both distrust Johnson, and are exceedingly afraid that he is wanting in the pluck necessary for a Cæsar or a Cromwell So they, with all their party brethren, are trying to inspirit and embolden him. The Examiner asks

> Now what will the President do? Will he too weaken? Will he bend to the popular storm? Will he surrender the Constitution at the demand of the multitude? Will he acknowledge that he is all that has been charged against him by his enemies? Will he sacrifice popular government to popular clamor? These are questions that he must soon answer, if not in words at least in action The Radical leaders, arrogant in their triumph, will not brook of farther opposition to their programme of aggression and outrage upon the South They have determined to have more victims They have determined that their next attempt to revolutionize a Southern State shall not be thwarted by Presidential interference. That any Southern State can, of its free choice, ratify the amendment they know is impossible; Hence only by overturning the existing governments they can they expect to put it through This they are bent on doing and the President must either consent to the undoing all that he has done, retrace his steps and give in to the Thersy or resort to the ultima ratio regum. Which will he do?
> Evidently the Examiner desires him to do the last. Oh! you apostles of "peace," mild patriots, passive non resistants, unwarlike haters of crubl war, imbellic ministers of good will to men —how bloody minded you are all become!

Arrival of Russian Telegraph Employes.

A Voice from North Carolina.

The following remarkable article from the Raleigh (North Carolina) Standard, edited by the President's Provisional Governor of that State, W. W. Holden, shows that the Union party has effectual and unexpected friends and co workers in the Southern part of the country The moderation and decision of its tone are equally significant, and there can be no question that it expresses the profound conviction of the most intelligent and faithful Union men of the South.

"The appeal now," says the Standard, "is to the people of the United States who suppressed the rebellion. It is for them to say on what terms the Government shall be restored" The article is worthy of consideration

We stated in our last that the issue had at length been finally and finally joined between the President and Congress The President stands upon and urges his policy, that the States are on detail to representation without further amendments to the Constitution, while the Congressional party, comprising the great mass of the Republicans, hold that further amendments to the Constitution are indispensable in order to place the recently insurgent States on a loyal basis and to insure quiet in the Union by excluding leading participants in the rebellion from holding office

Both sides seem to hold that the present Congressional test oath should be maintained The Philadelphia Convention whose proceedings the President has warmly indorsed, demands that 'loyal representatives" be admitted, and the President has repeatedly declared that the States will be entitled to representation when they shall send members who can "comply with any existing Constitutional or legal test"

"This, then, being the case, what remains but for those members elect who cannot take this oath to resign, and let their places be filled by those who can comply with the 'legal test' This would seem to be the obviously proper course, especially after the call by the Philadelphia Convention, for the admission of loyal representatives."

"For our part, our principles are not to be changed or affected by the action of Conventions, or by any cause that will not convince us that the principles are erroneous We feel sure that we have undergone no change since May 1865 We thought then, and we think now that the Union should be restored only on an "unmistakably loyal basis, that the President is merely a co worker with Congress in effecting this result and that, when the President had finished his work, as he declares he has, it was for the Congress to investigate it, to consider it, to modify it or to accept it or not as that body might choose We have never understood that the action of the President in this respect concluded the Congress, or that that body was bound to accept unconditionally the work of restoration as accomplished and presented to them by him

We feel sure that the President and the Congress are both actuated by patriotic motive We regret the breach between them. Pius breach is most probably incurable The appeal now is to the people of the United States who suppressed the rebellion It is for them to say on what terms the Government shall be restored We expect to be content with the terms Our people will be anxious and interested spectators of the struggle now going on in the Northern and Western States but they are not in a condition to take much part in the struggle They can only look on and hope that the result may be better for the whole country Our sympathies are with those who are most devoted to the Union and who are determined to restore it on a loyal basis, without the distinction of Northern Copperheads or Southern traitors"

5 A register shall be kept in the Adjutant General's office and also in the office of the Second Auditor of all claims presented under the law in which the claim and warrant shall be examined for record, etc If the claims be allowed, the amount of bounty paid to each will be noted, and if rejected the cause of rejection will be distinctly stated

In the applications for bounty as required by the third of these rules, the affidavit shall state each and every period of service rendered by the claimant and also if at he never served otherwise than as herein stated

Organizations irregularly in the service of the United States, or called out for special purposes as State Militia, Home Guards, etc, and not included in the general bounty laws, are not included within the meaning of the Act

8. Soldiers enlisted for "three years or during the war" who were discharged by reason of the termination of the war, shall be considered as having served out the period of their enlistment, and are entitled to bounty under this Act

9 The minority of heirs, claimants for bounty under the Act, must be proved to have existed at the date of its passage Parents shall receive jointly the bounty to which they may be entitled as heirs, unless the father has abandoned the support of his family in which case it shall be paid to the mother Non residents in the United States shall not be a bar to the claim of heirs, who would otherwise legally inherit

The provisions of the Act exclude from its benefits the following classes

1 Those who, after serving the full period of their enlistment, were dishonorably discharged at its expiration

2 Those discharged during enlistment by way of favor or punishment.

3 Those discharged on account of disability contracted in the service but not occasioned by wounds received in the line of duty who shall not have previously served two or three years respectively at the time of discharge

4 Those discharged on account of disability existing prior to the time of their enlistment

5 The heirs of those who have died since their discharge of wounds or disease not contracted in the service and in the line of duty

6. The surviving soldiers and heirs of deceased soldiers who, under previous laws, have received or are entitled to receive a bounty of more than $100 from the United States

7 The surviving soldiers, as well as the heirs of deceased soldiers, when such soldiers have bartered sold assigned, loaned, transferred, exchanged or given away their final discharge papers, or any interest in the bounty provided by this or any other Act of Congress

8. The Act of the 28th of July 1866, creates no right of inheritance beyond those vested by the law under which their heirs received or were entitled to receive the original bounty, and if any certain classes, brothers and sisters of heirs that were entitled to receive the original bounty, from any claim for the additional bounty provided by the Act

Respectfully referred to the Attorney General for his opinion on the point whether the rules and regulations as within amended are in conformity with law

EDWIN M STANTON,
September 14, 1866. Secretary of War

I have examined these amended regulations, and am of opinion they are in conformity with law

HENRY STANBERY,
September 15, 1866 Attorney General

The foregoing rules and regulations are published for the information and guidance of all concerned.

By order of the Secretary of War.

E D TOWNSEND,
Assistant Adjutant General

[L.S.] Clerk of the

This is but a just acknowledgement of the services of our brave volunteers who have imperilled their lives upon a hundred battle fields, or have left home with all its dear associations, to defend our frontier and protect the lives of our citizens from the murderous attacks of a savage foe, and I sincerely desire that the brave volunteers of Oregon should receive the full benefit arising from this Act and for whose benefit I have issued this Circular

It will be necessary to strictly follow the foregoing rules and forms.

All applications must be made direct to the Second Auditor at Washington D C

All Soldiers desiring that I should attend to this business for them will make application to this office either by letter or in person Very respectfully,

Yours obediently,

RECORDER'S COURT.—In the Recorder's Court yesterday a man named Nickum was arraigned for running a team without license. It appears that Nickum had gone to the City Treasurer and paid the money for his license, and the Treasurer's receipt for the same, which he should have presented to the Auditor, who would have taken up the receipt and issued a license in its stead. In view of those circumstances, and that the city had received his money, he was discharged. Lafray, charged with being drunk and disorderly by fighting on Alder street. It seems that Lafray was passing up Alder street, and attempted to step into a China house for the purpose of procuring a light for his cigar. Lafray seems had a jolly soul, and was somewhat inebriated. The Chinaman shut the door in his face and fastened his hand between the door and doorcasing, when Lafray pushed upon the door, when a crowd of infuriated Chinamen rushed out and set upon our jolly tar, and mashed and bruised him up badly. He was unable to raise his arm when required to swear. A policeman came to his assistance, when the rabble fled, leaving our hero, alone in his glory. The officer arrested one Chinaman and the Chinaman engaged in the row—Ah Wing—for disturbing the peace. Lafray was fined $5 and costs.....C. S. Silver, charged with permitting a nuisance to remain upon the sidewalk on First street. Mr. Silver had employed some men to do a piece of work which they performed, and the scavenger was to come and remove it that evening—but failed to come, and agreed with Mr. Silver to come at 8 o'clock yesterday and remove it. Mr. S. was to send some men to help him. The man failed to come, so the debris let it remain. At 9 o'clock Mr. Silver was charged with the nuisance. The blame of the matter will rest between Mr. Silver and the street cleaner. The case will be heard this morning.

LOST PAPERS.—Much complaint is made at this office by city subscribers, of the purloining of the dailies from the places where the carriers leave them. Although we do not respond to this loss, yet it is a source of great annoyance to us and our subscribers. We have not words strong enough to express our contempt for those mean who are so far lost to the dictates of honesty and decency in the depths of degradation as to steal his neighbor's morning paper. But we say in hope that such our readers, and that is, that the wretch who steals papers will steal something else, and at no distant day, will figure in the police court, and furnish us with an item of news or robbery. If our subscribers would make the papers scarce, so that the papers could be placed in small reach, much of this trouble would be obviated; or better still, should have the police take charge of the matter. Until the present no desire of mental improvement, or lack of means could in no sealing such difficulties, be accommodated with free board at the Ship. Could they fight bugs in the city jail for a week or two, they would probably let papers alone.

CITY NOTES.—We were yesterday shown the new city bonds. They were printed in this city by Mr. W. D. Carter, and are tolerably well gotten up. The bonds are for $100 each, payable in gold coin on the surrender of the bonds to the City Treasurer, with interest at the rate of twelve per cent. per annum, from the first day of May, 1866. The interest is payable semi-annually, and the bonds are issued in accordance with city ordinance No. 563, ... The Standing Committee on river improvement ..... a loan for the purpose of improving the mouth of the Willamette river. The city is free ..... by legislation cannot contract a debt of more than $1,000. The committee first wish to raise the amount of $2,000. Here is an opportunity for a good ..... of money. There is no place in which money can be more safely placed. The loan is a ..... rate one. For the honor of Portland let her bonds stand AI in the market. We anticipate, however, that the ..... will see but few of them, as they will be taken up and held by a few individuals.

RIVER IMPROVEMENT.—The Committee on River Improvement, McCraken, Lownsdale and O'Connor, visited the mouth of the river yesterday for the purpose of ..... the work done by the dredger. They report it feet of water in the channel at low tide, and at high tide that the ship channel is straight, and that in no difficulty can be experienced by ships coming in this port. They think no trouble need be apprehended in keeping the channel open. The dredger will be at work as at Swan Island to-day.

RACE TO-MORROW.—A race will be run to-morrow on the ..... track, single dash of a mile, for $200 a side. The ..... in the race are Dominion and Wilson. ..... sorrel gelding "Whisky," and Wilson ..... sorrel gelding. The race will be run best ..... hours of one and five P. M., and everybody will have an opportunity to "stake his pile."

DRY GOODS.—Messrs. Barman Brothers, with their usual ..... information, have ordered some excellent goods for this trade, among which may be enumerated, ... a splendid article for the business, also ..... Esquimaux beaver, and blue pilot cloth ..... A visit to this extensive establishment will be amply ..... repaid.

CITY PROPERTY.—By an omission of the compositor, we ..... made to say that the City Assessor reports the total ..... amount of the ..... amount list to be $4,203,125 in excess of the list of last year. The report read that the total of ..... was $4,906,125, which is $450,550 in excess of the ..... of the previous year.

THE PROPELLER.—The bark-rigged propeller James A. Hallenberg will finish ..... to-day, and will probably drop down the river in a few days to make up her cargo for the Islands. The Hallenberg is a "bonny bark," and will no doubt make a ..... fast and quick trip, as she is now in splendid condition.

LUMBER.—We noticed last evening a large amount of freight upon the wharf of the O. S. N. Company. It reminds us of the palmy days of the Columbia river trade, when the boats of the company were crowded with freight—when we supplied the northern trade with all her stock. May they come again.

PRINTING.—We learn that the agent for the Mining and Scientific Press has met with much success in his canvass in this city, both in his advertising list and in subscribers. The Press is substantially the miner's and mechanic's friend, and will do much to further these interests.

MUSIC.—The ..... Academy of Mr. C. Cardinel is ..... ing finely, and we see many of our young friends are improving this opportunity of instruction in the graceful art. The class meets on Monday and Thursday ..... of each week.

LOCAL.—The steamer Reporter brought last evening 200 sx. ..... flour, 1 coop chickens, 12 cases milk, ... 1 bdle wrapping paper, 1 pkg goods, 1 pkg paper, 1 roll ..... 36 sks wheat, 32 bxs apples, 10 sks feed, and 83 ..... bundles.

RUNAWAY.—A pair of horses attached to a wagon became ..... and, on one of the backstreets, and ran down to Front, and turned up the street at a pace that was ..... to beat. The last we saw of them they were still ..... regardless of expense.

LOST.—The smart dog, Major, mentioned in yesterday's ..... has not been returned from some of his admirers as he ..... silver collar. Good for Major. He will deserves ..... and will bear them worthily.

THEATRICAL.—Let all remember the festival to ..... tonight by the Good Templars, at Turn Verein ..... We hope to see a large crowd, and that everybody ..... will be there to see.

HORSE RACING.—There were found upon the streets ..... several Odd Fellows' papers, etc., also a ..... Apply at this office.

ARRIVAL.—In San Francisco, on the 23d inst., the ..... Wilson, 58 hours from Portland.

THE MOST.—The steamer Wilson G. Hunt brought ..... ng from the Cascades 90 passengers.

FIRST BARK NOTICE.—E. L. Merritt, editor of the Illinois State Register, has been appointed Agent for Illinois by A. Johnson. To how how deserving he is, the following from an editorial that appeared in his paper a few days after Johnson's inauguration as Vice President, will probably be sufficient:

"There is no reason to suppose that such a beast (Andrew Johnson) will exhibit signs of penitence, much less will he be likely to give up his grasp on the public treasury. If anything useful is to be done in this regard, it must be brought about by coercive measures. It is now reported that Stevens' special agent, if the House of Representatives was in session he would move the ..... rat of the debauched buffoon. It is to be hoped that Thad's indignation will not die out before the session commences. * * * But Mr. Thad. Stevens maintain his proper indignation until the next session, and if in the meantime Andy Johnson does not resign—a most improbable conjecture—nor die off in a drunken debauch—equally improbable—for Heaven is chastising this nation in divers miraculous ways—then remove him by impeachment.

Senator Wilson predicts 100,000 Union majority in Massachusetts this fall. When it is remembered that Lincoln's majority in 1864 was nearly 30,000, this will not appear to be an overestimate.

STATE ITEMS.

Several immigrants are reported as having arrived recently in Yamhill county.

It is said to have been one of the peculiarities of the late State Fair that the finest "calves" were seen in the vicinity of the great swing.

The Active brought down from Salem, Thursday, thirty-four horses purchased in Marion county for the cavalry service in the Snake country.

Captain Sprague started with the greater portion of his command from Fort Klamath on the 14th inst. to look after hostile Indians.

The P. T. Company having constructed a series of wing-dams at Matheny's bar, the failure to spoil has a heavy dew or fog does not now prevent their boat from making regular trips as far up as Salem.

Mr. D. Smith, the Assessor of Yamhill county, returns the following statistics: Number of persons assessed for poll tax, 786; persons liable to do military duty, 1; approximate number of acres of assessable real estate, 215,174; value of same, inclusive of town property, $787,925; value of personal property, $471,350. Total, $1,160,275.

The Sentinel has a letter from Curry county which is quite expressive of the disgust some of the constituents have for the members mentioned. We give an extract: "We thought we elected a strong Union man to represent us in the Legislature, but Mr. Lockhart voting against the amendments to the U. S. Constitution is a fearful let down, and all are highly indignant."

We venture the assertion that no town in Oregon, all things considered, has, during the present season, gone ahead of Lafayette in the way of improvements. In addition to those already enumerated, by us, there are now in progress of erection and completion many more buildings of more or less importance; besides much is being done in the way of "reconstructing," remodeling and repairing old buildings. So says the Courier.

Late prospecting on the south fork of the Santiam, demonstrates the fact that there are numerous bars between Canal creek and the settlements of the Willamette, which will pay from $2 50 to $4 per day when properly worked with sluices. The best city has invariably been found back next to the permanent banks. The parties making these prospects, averaged about two dollars from prospect holes, with a rocker of rough construction.

The Sentinel gives the particulars of the arrest of Hourhurst: Messrs. Funk and Webb succeeded in arresting this escaped convict at Fort Klamath this week. They brought him into town on Wednesday evening last, and started with him for Salem yesterday morning. We mentioned last week that the arresting party had come up on the Deschutes. They were on a forced chase, longer than was expected, and experienced a very hard trip, inasmuch as they did not take provision except for three days. Among the great number of trails running through that country, the one taken by the fugitive was that. The party run out of provisions and were compelled to subsist on pine nuts taken from the cones or burr of that country. When the party got to the Deschutes river, they procured a quantity of fresh water clams. These they ate raw, roasted and made chowder of. They then came back to the Fort, got a new supply and started again, traveling about twenty-five miles the first day, until they met a party from Eugene City going to hunt a surveying party out in that country. Both parties camped together. Mr. Funk and one of the party from Eugene took their guns and started for a short hunt, when they met Hunthurst taking a wigwam and team to the Fort. They stopped, talked, and each told where he was going. Hunthurst said he would go down and camp with them that night, but when the boys got to camp he prisoner was there; for he, as afterwards related, had soliloquized thus: "Hunting surveying party, eh; curious place to find them, though, still go to camp they may want a chain carrier, and I guess I won't go." Messrs. Funk and Webb next morning started for the Fort, and got in before the wagon, which they waited for and took Hunthurst while he slept.

General Logan on the "Policy."

Prior to the late election in Indiana General Logan made a series of most effective speeches in that State. Following are a couple of paragraphs from his speech at Attica:

Let us examine "my policy." The great "I" says that by "my policy" the Union has been restored, the States lately in rebellion have been restored, and hold the same relations to the other States and the General Government that the loyal States do. We cannot see it, but let us look. He restores South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, &c. Who restores them? The President. Where is his authority for it? Where does he find any in the Constitution or the laws? Why, every day or two, in his perogrinations through the country, he is handing over the Constitution and the laws to the little squads of so-called loyal men he meets with on the way; and I am afraid he is not even keeping a copy of it to maintain and preserve. If these States needed to be restored, I would like for Andrew the First to tell me why it is he appointed Governors for those States, when they did no direct elections to be held for members of Congress? I would like to ask the people of Indiana if they think he has the right to appoint a Governor for Indiana? I don't think you will find any such authority. Why? Because the State of Indiana holds the same political relations to the United States that it ever has held; because the people of Indiana have not forfeited their political rights. Hence he cannot appoint a Governor for your State. But he claims that other States have the same relations to the General Government that Indiana has, yet he presumes to appoint Governors for them. And he attempts to justify himself by saying that he is pursuing the same course Lincoln did. But there is a radical difference between the two. Abraham Lincoln appointed a Governor for the State of Tennessee. How did he do it? He appointed Andrew Johnson Brigadier-General in the army, and then appointed him Military Governor of Tennessee. How did President Johnson do? He appointed Gov. Sharkey, a miserable broken down Rebel, that never held a commission in any army, and never expected to. This is the difference between the two courses.

JOHNSON AND JEFF. DAVIS.

In considering the third section of the Constitutional Amendment, prohibiting traitors who had violated their oaths to support the Constitution of the United States from holding responsible offices in the State or National Governments, General Logan said: Why is the Democratic party opposed to this? Do they want Jeff. Davis again in the Congress of the United States? "O, but there is no danger of that," they say. "He is in prison." But he would be out of prison if Johnson were not afraid of public sentiment. If a court were to convict him, however, I believe Johnson would let him hang—not because he thought he deserved it, but because he is afraid he will be a formidable opposing candidate for the Presidency at the next Democratic Convention. [Great applause.

PORTLAND, Oct. 18th, 1866.
TO THE OREGON IRON WORKS:
Gentlemen:—The Portable Steam Saw Mill which we purchased of you last spring for Pen d'Oreille Lake, has been in operation during the past season, and has more than met our expectations in its performance. With three men, we turn out from three to four thousand feet, and with five men, five thousand feet per day of ten hours; and we take pleasure in recommending the concern as the most SUBSTANTIAL, DESIRABLE AND PERFECT MILLS IN USE, and especially adapted to the wants of this country, on account of their compact form, ease of transportation and the facility with which they can be set up and put in operation. Although subjected to the most severe tests, no repairs have been required.

LAWS OF OREGON,

Passed at the Fourth Regular Session of the Legislative Assembly, held September, 1866.

AN ACT to authorize Towns, Cities and Counties to aid in the construction of public improvements.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon:

Section 1. That any incorporated town or city, or any organized county of this State, be, and the same are hereby authorized and empowered to aid in the construction or repair of any public highway, or river improvement, in the manner herein named.

Sec. 2. That whenever the majority of the legal voters of any such town, city or county, as shown by the poll books of the last preceding election, shall petition the municipal authorities of such town or city, or the Commissioners of such county, in favor of any proposition to aid in the construction or repair of any such public works, or decide in favor of so aiding such public work, at any special or regular election, under the direction of such authorities, then it shall be lawful and competent for the municipal authorities of such town or city, or the Commissioners of such county, as the case may be, to enact, order and levy an annual tax running through one or more years, providing a separate fund for the purpose of aiding and constructing the public work petitioned for by such voters, and providing funds by such annual tax to make annual payments for such purpose, and ordering and appropriating the funds or money of such annual tax for such annual payments petitioned for or decided in favor of by the said voters; Provided, that all such improvements so aided shall be for the use of all the citizens of this State without charge.

Approved, Oct. 24, 1866.

AN ACT to further provide for the sale of school lands, and to distribute the income of the common school fund.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon, That the board organized by the act of October 22d, 1864, for the sale of school lands and the management of the common school fund, and authorized to sell sections sixteen and thirty-six, and all lands selected in lieu of such sections, and to take charge of and manage the funds derived from the sales heretofore made of such lands. For this purpose it is made the duty of the superintendents of schools in the several counties to report to the board, immediately after the passage of this act, the description, quantity and value of each tract of said land in their respective counties, and to turn over to the board the proceeds of all sales heretofore made, and all obligations for moneys due or to become due for such sales, or for their proceeds loaned out. And it is made the duty of the board to correspond with the superintendents and obtain the necessary information and the control of the said lands and funds.

Sec. 2. Hereafter school lands shall be sold only by the said board, and the sales shall be of the four classes following:

First—Any person who has a valid right of preemption on section sixteen or thirty-six, at the time of its survey by the United States; or who had such right on any other school land at the time of its selection as such, or who is the successor in interest of such pre-emption by devise, descent or purchase of his improvements, may on due proof of such right and succession, purchase from the board the land actually covered by such right, and no more, at one dollar and twenty-five cents per acre in any lawful money of the United States.

Second—Any person who shall furnish to the Governor a description of any public lands subject to be selected for common school purposes, and shall at the same time apply to purchase the same, may if the selection be made and approved, purchase said land at one dollar and twenty-five cents per acre in gold coin.

Third—Any settler who, before the passage of this act, has filed with the board his application and affidavit in accordance with the provisions of the said act of October 22d, 1864, but has not received his certificate by reason that the selection has not been approved by the commissioners of the general land office, or the successor in interest of such settler by devise, descent or purchase of his improvements, may within ninety days after notice given the board in the newspaper of the public printer, that such selection have been approved, complete the purchase so begun, and take a certificate or deed of the land specified in the application in the terms prescribed in the said act.

Fourth—Every application not provided for in either of the preceding classes, shall be referred to the superintendent of schools in the county in which the lands is situated, with instructions to make personal examination of the land, and report to the board its true value in coin. And it is made the duty of the superintendent forthwith to make such examination and report. And the board, may sell the same for the price reported, if satisfied with the report, but not for less, in gold coin. But the board may adopt additional means to ascertain the value, and may hold the land at a higher price than that reported. And no more than three hundred and twenty acres, or one half section, shall be sold under this clause to any one person.

Sec. 3. That the proviso to section eight of the act aforesaid, and also so much of the said act as limits the quantity and price of the lands to be sold, and requires settlement on the same, and an affidavit, are hereby repealed.

Sec. 4. The board may in their (discretion) demand the services of any county officer in any business relating to the school lands and funds in his county. And the county treasurer, if so required, shall receive, receipt for and safely keep separate, any school moneys, or securities for such moneys, subject to the order of the board. And superintendents, on being furnished by the board with a list of school moneys falling due in their counties, shall be diligent in requiring prompt payment thereof to the county treasurers, or otherwise as the board may direct. And county treasurers, for their services under this act, shall receive out of the general county fund one per cent. of the amount of school moneys received by them.

Sec. 5. The board shall take all proper measures to have the annual income of school lands and funds collected into the State and county treasuries by or before the first day of February in each year; and they shall, on that day, divide the income then on hand among the several counties in proportion to the number of children resident therein between the ages of four and twenty years. If any part of such income shall be in the hands of any county treasurer they may draw upon the same in favor of the superintendent of that or any other county for the distributive share of such county or any part thereof. They may also draw upon the county treasurers in favor of superintendents, payable out of the general county funds; and such orders shall be returned to the State treasury in place of so much money due the State for taxes; and the State treasurer shall transfer the same amount from the income of the school fund to the general fund. They may also draw in favor of the superintendents upon the income fund in the State treasury; and such orders shall be received and transferred, in like manner, if offered in payment of State taxes.

Sec. 6. It is the duty of the board to foreclose, immediately, all the mortgages which are not an adequate security for the debt; and they may, in their discretion, bid in the land at its true value in coin, or they may, without suit, accept a release of the equity of redemption and take the land at its true value in coin. And any of the permanent funds which may consist of legal tender notes or other currency may be loaned at its market value in coin.

Approved October 24, 1866.

AN ACT to aid in the construction of the Oregon Central Railroad.

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon,

Sec. 1. That whenever the Oregon Central Railroad Company shall have completed the first twenty miles of their said road, and shall have received from the President of the United States a patent for the land granted by Congress for such completed section, they may exhibit the said patent to the Secretary and Treasurer of this State, and present to them two hundred bonds of the said company, of the denomination of one thousand dollars each, duly executed, payable in twenty years from the first day of January or July, the next ensuing, with coupons attached for the payment by this State at the State Treasury of half yearly interest on the said bonds at the rate of seven per cent. per annum, and the Secretary and Treasurer shall each make an entry in books to be kept in their respective offices, of the number and denomination of the said series of bonds, and their date and time of maturity, and of the number of coupons attached to each, and their denomination and amount, and the time when the first and last of such coupons will mature, and thereupon the Treasurer shall sign the said coupons and deliver the bonds to the company, and the company shall pay to the Treasurer one dollar for each bond whose coupons are so signed by him. And whenever another like section of twenty miles of the road shall be completed, and the patent for its quota of land shall be so exhibited, the Treasurer shall sign the coupons attached, to another series of two hundred similar bonds, to be so presented and recorded, and so from time to time as the road shall be completed, by like sections, and the land patent for each section exhibited, the Treasurer shall sign the coupons of a like number of similar bonds, until the whole number upon which the State has thus undertaken to pay interest, shall be one thousand bonds of the aggregate nominal value of one million of dollars, and the faith of the State is pledged to the payment of the said coupons as they mature, but the State will not pay any of the said principal of the said bonds.

Sec. 2. Whenever the Treasurer shall have signed any such coupons he shall with the assistance of the Secretary, make an estimate on the rate of tax, if any, which it will be necessary to levy annually on the assessed value of the taxable property in the State, in addition to other available funds to redeem the coupons that will mature up to and including the half year's interest that will fall due next after the commencement of the next session of the Legislative Assembly. And the Secretary and Treasurer shall certify to the Governor the rate of taxation so found to be necessary. And the Governor shall issue his proclamation directing the County Courts to levy the same in addition to all other taxes. And the County Courts shall levy the same accordingly, and the moneys thence arising shall be applied to that object and no other, so long as any of the said coupons shall remain unpaid.

Sec. 3. At the expiration of one year from the maturity of the last of said coupons the company shall refund to the State all the moneys paid by the State for interest on all the said one thousand bonds, and the State shall have a lien for the same on the said road with its depots and all other [of] its appurtenances, with the right of way and the rolling stock, and all other property, real and personal, of the said company from the passage of this act until such re payment shall be fully made and completed, which lien shall have priority over all other indebtedness of the company, and may be enforced as a mortgage or as hereinafter provided. And the company shall at all times transport free of charge all persons and property which otherwise would be conveyed at the expense of the State; and all the articles on their way to the Fairs of the State Agricultural Society for exhibition, and on their return, and the Company shall at all times transmit by their telegraph free of charge, all dispatches to and from the officers of the State, which otherwise would be transmitted at the expense of the State. And if the Company shall procure any coupons to be signed by the Treasurer, they shall be deemed to have accepted all the conditions and provisions of this act at the time of its passage.

Sec. 4. If the company shall not complete one twenty miles section of the road before the expiration of the year 1868, or shall not complete two such sections in each year and every year thereafter until the whole shall be completed to the State of California, or to a junction with the California road, the State upon such failure, may by act of the Legislative Assembly, transfer all the property, rights and franchises upon which the said line operates, to any other company, person or persons, in its discretion, and if the company and the State shall not agree upon the valuation of the property and rights so transferred, the Circuit Court upon the petition of either party, and due notice to the other, shall appoint three impartial and competent arbitrators to assess the value thereof, and the coupons already signed shall be set off against such valuation, or the State on any such failure may take possession of such property or may foreclose such lien, or both at their option. And no coupon shall be signed by the Treasurer for any section of the road which shall not be completed within the time limited by this act.

Turbulence in Missouri—Radical Unionists Murdered by Bushwhackers.

A despatch to the New York Tribune dated Leavenworth, September 17th, says:

A bloody and fearful tragedy occurred at Platte City, Mo., on Saturday last. The Radical Convention assembled at the church in Platte City on that day. There were about 100 men, including visiting delegations. The Convention put in nomination a full ticket, and adjourned about 4 o'clock P. M. Just before adjournment the Rebels brought a band of music upon the street, which played, Dixie, The Bonnie Blue Flag, etc., and soon gathered about them a large crowd of armed men. A Union man, Thomas Dunnigan, being very noisy upon the street, the Sheriff went to him and was in the act of quieting him, when a Constable named Callahan, of notorious Rebel record, came up with a posse of men and pointed out Dunnigan, who stood beside the Sheriff, saying: "There he is—take him," or words to that effect. Immediately the rebels, who had assembled to the number of four hundred, commenced firing upon every Union man upon the street. Four were instantly killed and a large number wounded. The bushwhackers from the Union men on the town, and four hundred rebels now hold possession of it. A Mr. Heath visited Platte City to get his brother's body but was not allowed to take it away. They gave him a pass to get out of town through their picket lines. The first shot was fired by a rebel constable upon a drunken unarmed Unionist. Members of the Convention who had left, hearing the shooting, returned to Platte City, and while riding through the streets were fired upon from the windows of houses and saloons. Many horses were shot from under the delegates. Four men were killed, and 12 wounded. The extras caused great excitement here. Gov. Fletcher has been telegraphed to. He will be at Weston to-morrow to attend a mass meeting there. The Unionists have all been driven to Weston. The rebels are all around, and swear no Unionists shall remain in Platte City.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

ST. LOUIS, September 17, 1866.

The Democrat's Leavenworth special says that after the adjournment of the Platte County Radical Convention at Platte City, Mo., on Saturday, a drunken Union soldier named Dunnigan made some noise on the street, and flourished a pistol about. Sheriff Ogden took his pistol away and told him to keep quiet, which he did. A short time afterward a returned rebel named Callahan with a posse of ten men, demanded the surrender of Dunnigan. A scuffle ensued and pistols were freely used, resulting in the death of three or four, and the wounding of eight or ten men. A number of delegates who had started home, hearing firing, returned to town, and were fired on by Callahan's party, and had several of their horses killed under them. Callahan fired twice at one delegate, who was lying under his wounded horse, and was fired at in return and killed. The latest accounts say that several hundred armed rebels hold Platte City, and have driven all the Union men out of town, and swear they shall not return. Great excitement exists. Governor Fletcher has been applied to for force to put down the mob. All the accounts agree that Dunnigan was unarmed when Callahan's party attacked him.

ANOTHER LITTLE CHILD WHIPPED TO DEATH FOR REFUSING TO SAY HER PRAYERS.—Another case of fatal flogging, if possible more revolting in shocking details than the recent Lindsley child-murder in Medina, N. Y., occurred at Sannia, a few miles from this city, on Wednesday last, the victim in this instance, being a little girl five years of age, named Kate Sibly, the illegitimate daughter of Schuyler Sibley, and a Miss Kate Davis, and the alleged provocation leading to the cruel act being the refusal of the child to say its prayers. From the evidence elicited at the inquest on the body of the child, it appears that on the night in question the mother had beaten the child with a raw-hide for nearly an hour, and when rendered insensible by pain and loss of blood, thrust it into a chair and went to bed. For a time the child was heard to moan as if in intense agony, but soon became quiet, and nothing more was heard until near morning, when a servant entered the room and found the child dead, and immediately gave the alarm. Upon lifting the child from the floor, where it had fallen, a most revolting sight was presented. The head, face and shoulders were scarred and discolored from the terrible blows of the raw-hide, while the body from head to foot, presented a shockingly mangled and bloody appearance. Old scars, scarcely healed, were also visible upon the body, testifying to former cruel floggings. The medical evidence showed that the injuries of the floggings were alone sufficient to produce death, but that serious internal injuries, the result of kicks or blows, had previously been received; and the entire absence of food for many hours had also something to do with the result. The murderess, in being examined, confessed that a few days' previous to the fatal act, the father of the child had administered to it a most unmerciful beating for not saying its prayers, and had ordered her to do the same whenever it refused. The jury returned a verdict, criminating both parents, whereupon they were both committed to prison to await trial for murder.—Kingston (C. W.) Chs. Sun.

CATHOLICS IN CHICAGO.—A leading Catholic divine of Chicago denounces the attempts of the Times and the Copperhead ward politicians to make it appear that they are authorized to speak for the Catholic Church. This clergyman declares that he never permits the Times to enter his house; that no greater injustice could be perpetrated than the conduct of the leaders of the Democratic party in using the name of the Catholic Church to induce the Irish people to vote for their nominee; that the leaders of the Chicago Democracy are composed almost entirely of the Know Nothings of 1854 and 1855; that there is not a Catholic priest in Chicago who does not despise them; and that there is not one who does not indorse Congress and General Logan.

VERY REMARKABLE.—The New Orleans Picayune says that a man daubed his pantaloons with tar, and sat down on a mule. The tar stuck fast and man and mule went off together. Afterwards the man was found dead in the woods, with obvious marks of hanging. It was supposed that he had committed suicide, and then hid the rope!

Condensed History of Steam.

About 200 years B. C., Hero of Alexandrea, formed a toy which exhibited some of the powers of steam, and was moved by its power.

A. D. 540. Anthemius, a mechanical arranged several cauldrons of water, each covered with the wide bottom of a leathern pipe, which rose to a narrow top, with pipes extending to the rafters of the adjoining building. A fire kindled beneath the cauldron, and the steam ascending, the tubes with the efforts of the steam descending, the tubes. This is the first notice of the power of steam recorded.

In 1543, June 17th, Blasco de Garay tried a steamboat of 200 tons, with complete success, at Barcelona, Spain. It consisted of a cauldron of boiling water, and a moveable wheel on each side of the ship. It was said as impracticable. A present however was made to Garay.

In 1679 the first railroad was constructed at Newcastle-on-the-Tyne.

The first idea of a steam engine in England was in the Marquis of Worcester's History of Invention, A. D. 1663.

In 1681 Newcraun made this first steam engine in England.

In 1718 patents were granted to Savory for the first application for the steam engine.

In 1764 James Watts made the first perfect steam engine in England.

In 1769 Jonathan Hulls first set forth the idea of steam navigation.

In 1778 Thomas Thomas first proposed the application in America.

In 1781 Marquis Jouffray constructed a steamboat on the Saone.

In 1785 two Americans published a work on it.

In 1789 William Symington made a voyage in one on the Forth and Clyde Canal.

In 1802 this experiment was repeated.

In 1782 Ramsey propelled a boat by steam at New York.

In 1789 John Fitch of Connecticut navigated a boat by a steam engine on the Delaware.

In 1784 Robert Fulton first began to apply his attention to steam.

In 1788 Oliver Evans, a native of Philadelphia, constructed a steam engine to travel on a turnpike road.

The first steam engine that ever crossed the Atlantic was the Savannah, in the month of June, 1810, from Charleston to Liverpool.—Hunt's Merchants' Magazine.

A NEW FOUNDERING STORY.—A London letter says:

"Speaking of ships, we have had an appeal to public charity for Capt. Casey, whose case had been neglected, apparently because his story was too hard for belief. Eight ships, some new, some loaded with timber, left Quebec the same day, with officers and crews, numbering 160 men. They all foundered in the same gale, and of all the men Capt. Casey is the only known survivor. He lived 23 days lashed to the topmast of his vessel, 28 days without food and badly frozen. The rest died, and he, when taken off by a Rotterdam ship, weighed, in his wet clothes, but 98 pounds. This poor man, who lost his fingers and toes, has a family in Cornwall and has not been able to get to them. This week his case was brought before one of the London magistrates, and as soon as authenticated, the money began to come for him, so that he will be provided for.

SMALL BOY IN BROOKFIELD, IOWA.—A teacher in one of the primary schools at Brookfield the other day, found among his list of juveniles one who was constantly engaged in some mischief, and at the same time was given to swearing. Having uttered an oath in violation of the teacher's rules, he ordered the aforesaid juvenile to take his place in one corner of the old rickety school house, and placing a pair of old fashioned iron tongs in his hand, to watch a hole in the floor until he should catch a mouse, supposing this would be a great punishment. The little urchin gazed steadily at the aperture, while the teacher with his face turned from him, was engaged with the scholars. At last he heard the old tongs go bang! He turned his eye quickly upon the youth, who with a countenance gleaming with excitement, yelled, "Teacher, I've got the d—d little cuss!" and true enough he had mistor mouse fast by the head.

GENERAL GRANT—A SIGNIFICANT QUERY.—The Carson Appeal puts the following:

The "pretended Congress" of the republic is the body which passed the laws under and by virtue of which U. S. Grant, of Galena, leather merchant, has been enabled to turn his military genius and his great courage to so good account that he has risen, step by step, from a desultory Drill-master in the service of the Governor of Illinois to rare positions of full General in the service of the United States. Query: Will he, by siding with the President, repudiate the military titles which he holds by the simple course of the validity and supremacy of the acts of that pretended Congress? We do not ask this question because we doubt Grant's fidelity to the North, but simply to show how impossible it is for him to become a party to the contemplated revolutionary movements of the President.

A PERTINENT QUESTION.—The New York Tribune of a recent date asks the following question: "If negro suffrage is not the question now before the people, we would like to know what is. Will some of our Radicals answer?"—Examiner.

Certainly; rebel suffrage is the question now.—Sac. Bee.
